Service and Support

To obtain service/support for your Mutoh ValueJet 1938TX printer, please contact your Mutoh authorized dealer. Have your printer serial number available and be prepared to answer diagnostic questions your dealer may ask. Your dealer will resolve or guide you to the proper sources for RIP, network, color management or application related issues. In the event of printer hardware issue, your dealer will obtain a service authorization from Mutoh to initiate on-site service.

For authorized Mutoh service calls, your dealer will open a service call through Mutoh. Self servicing dealers will be provided with a Mutoh authorization number which authorizes the dealer to schedule an ETA (estimated time of arrival) with you. A best effort is made to be on-site the next business day provided calls are received by 1:00 PM Arizona time in non-remote locations. Calls received after 1:00 PM Arizona time may require an additional day.

Mutoh will generally ship part(s) next business day to the customer site to coincide with technical service. Mutoh may send more parts than required to reduce the likelihood of additional down time; receipt of service parts does not imply that replacement is necessary. All parts, used and unused must be returned to Mutoh by the servicing technician.

On rare occasions, and at its sole discretion, Mutoh may decide to exchange a printer. In such cases, the original unit and its parts become the property of Mutoh America and the new printer or parts fulfill the remaining warranty period for the original product. Parts may be new or reconditioned to Mutoh factory specifications. Additionally, if Mutoh elects to exchange a printer, the replacement unit will consist of the printer only – accessories, manuals, software, stand, cables and promotional materials are not included. It is the customer's responsibility to receive and install the new unit, as well as to prepare and package the original unit and alert Mutoh that the status is ready for pick-up. Units not ready for return within 5 business days will be invoiced at then prevailing rates for the replacement printer.

Your Mutoh ValueJet 1938TX printer comes with a one year manufacturer's limited warranty. You may also purchase up to three years extended manufacturer's limited warranty anytime during the original one year manufacturer warranty period, in one year blocks, provided subsequent blocks are purchased while unit is still under extended warranty. Requests for extended warranty outside of the one year manufacturer warranty will be subject to inspection/repair to ensure printer meets minimum factory specifications. Fees for part and labor will be at then prevailing rates.
